Drawing of your hand

First of all, please note that I can only design a fitting grip size when the delivered sketch has been made holding the pistol correctly! That means that the line of the bore should point exactly in the direction of the wrist (picture on the left).

Instructions for drawing your hand:

Please place the hand with "which you shoot" onto a piece of paper. (See drawing below). Draw the lines so that they are vertical to the outside edges of your fingers. I recommend the use of a metal pen refill for best results.

Please write your name and address on your drawing so that there are no misunderstandings concerning the origin. Please send the "original drawing" and the order form via snail-mail. Please do not fax, as this will lead to unclear measurements.
